COL. JOHN K. MILLER has been ap pointed and confirmed as Internal Revenue Collector in the First Congressional District of this State.

SENATOR WARNER has introduced a bill in the Senate providing that the Secretary of the Treasury be "authorized to receive from the States of Alabama, Virginia North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkausas and Tennessee, in payment of the amount of the direct tax due from said States under the act of Congress approved August five, eighteen hundred and sixtyone, and unpaid at the passage of this act, the bonds of each of said States, respectively, payable in ten years from date, and bearing interest at the rate of six per centum per annum, in gold, payable semiannually at the Treasury of the United States; That the Secretary of the Treasury be required to pay back to each of said States the amount of interest paid on said bonds by each State, respectively, to be credited by said States to their respective school funds, and expended in aid of common schools for the equal benefit of the children of all races in proportion to num

This bill, like that of Mr. Arnell's, to which we alluded some days since, would be a practical aid to the cause of education in the South, and we are glad to see that Congress is willing to help us in this great work.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF PEACE.

Our readers are no doubt fully prepared for the news that came yesterday, that the Bordeaux Assembly, by the significant vote of five hundred and forty-six to one hundred and seven, on Wednesday last, ratified the preliminary treaty of peace negotiated at Versailles by Thiers and Favre. There formalities ended, the fall of the Empire is officially promulgated and the ascendancy of Germany to the leading power in Europe assured. History teaches some remarkable lessons. It is worthy of note that the German Empire, which was dismembered in 1806 by the Corsican chieftain, Napoleon the I, is now, after a lapse of over half a century, welded together by the folly and incapacity of Napoleon the ate ordering payment of damages sustained III. The sceptre of power which was by the East Tennessee University during transferred to France in 1806 is now transferred from the French Empire to Ger- the bill pass the House yesterday and make many, restored, re-united, and all power- it a law. We trust the measure met with ful. The change in the face of the map of success, or if it was not acted upon yester-Europe by the cession of Alsace and Lor- day, it will be to-day before noon, the hour raine, as measured by the surface of terri- at which the 41st Congress expires. This tory ceded, is not at all indicative of the real change in the political and military ing and set it upon the highway to proscharacter which it in fact signifies. There perity, despite the efforts of domestic eneare changes in the character of the powers mies to entail ruin upon it. We hope to that were parties to that transfer of terri- be able to chronicle the success of the tory which is well understood and appreciated in Europe. In the short space of seven months the balance of power in Europe has been so materially shifted that in England we find striking evidences of its significance and import. The million and more of men as they march back from the sanguinary but glorious fields of France to be disbanded and resume the duties of citizenship in civil life carry with them an experience and prestige which may well provoke a rattling among the old fogies in Britain. They return not as soldiers of Prussia, or Wurtemburg, or Saxony, or Bavaria, but as the trained veterans of the German Empire, led by officers unequalled in skill and efficiency by any now living in Europe.

The significance of this peace is not alone in the fact that the German armies enter and occupy the half deserted capital city where, but seven months ago, the shouts of 'On to Berlin' were echoed through the gay and thronged streets; but it is in the fact that Germany comes out of the conflict more powerful, more influential, more dangerous than she went into it, and she has it in her power, if the spirit moved her, to but change the direction of the heads of her columns and march into half the capitals of the continent.

We do not believe that the tremendous have just overcome. If the scale were reversed, and Napoleon was to-day dictating peace from Berlin at the head of an army as numerous, as well equipped and as incomparably officered, Europe would have much more to fear. As it is, we look for good results from the change in the political re-organization of Europe. We believe Germany will use the power she has so bravely won in the interests of a higher and better civilization than could have MYSTERIES OF MASONRY, by Reysprung from the frivolty, fashion and corruption of Paris. We believe she will endeavor to diffuse into the people of Europe that love of learning, that respect for national honesty and true greatness which has given her the proud position she now occupies. Did we not believe this, we might share, with some others, the feeling that the contest has only ended in France to be soon renewed on a more gigantic scale, and with more dangerous results, on other fields, so head and her midd

THE REAL REASON.

Democratic papers, always ready to either of a private or official nature, are sometimes unscrupulous enough to charge that he is untruthful. They say he s untrue to his friends and false to his most sacred obligations. It will not be hard to trace the foundation for such a spirit on their part to a very different source. It is not that he has failed to tell the truth, but that he has carried out too well what he said he would do. For instance, in 1864, when, by his superior ability and splendid successes, he was found to be the man above all others to lead our national armies to victory, and put down the rebellion, he put his mighty forces to work, and informed the gentlemen on the other side that he would fight it out on that line if it took all summer. Copperheads in his rear and armed rebels in his front "smiled a kind of sickly smile," and awaited the "subsequent proceedings," praying, from the very depths of their souls, that he didn't mean what he said. But soon they found that he did mean what he said, and that they might prepare to act accordingly. Democrats in his front began to consider a retrograde movement, and copperheads in his rear felt that a collapse was imminent. Anti-war demonstrations at the North became less frequent, and war demonstrations at the South grew weaker every day. Early in 1865, in the neighborhood of Appemattox, under an apple-tree, the thing subsided, and these fellows, to a man, appreciated what General Grant meant when he talked about fighting it out on that line. He had followed his first declarations too strictly to please them. That was what was the matter; and our word for it, they hate him worse for that one declaration, so truthfully carried out, than they would for a thousand untruths, such as they foolishly charge him with now.

LATE dispatches from Washington intimate that naughty Ben. Butler has been playing the very deuce with the peace of mind Democratic Congressmen covet. They have been all the time in mortal dread, for fear that he would pass some bloody criminal code bill for the government of the Southern States, and their sit uation is represented as being extremely painful. To make the matter more unenduring, just at the nick of time when his services against Butler were needed, Voorhees deserted his post of duty, though he persists, they say, in drawing his pay, and all the weight of such dreadful responsibility was left upon the shoulders of Beck, Fernando Wood, "Sunset" Cox, and other shining lights of the party. Sure enough the tempest came, and these men were left to combat its fury, which they did, and now the country's safe.

NOTHING SO GOOD AS Weaver's Medicines FOR HUMORS.

THESE INVALUABLE MEDICINES HAVE achieved a COMPLETE TRIUMPH in cradicating Humors, of all kinds, from the Human system. They were introduced to the public some leyears since, and have been used with entire success. The CANCER and SALT BHEIM SYRUE is taken internally—high and have been used with entire success. The CANCER and SALT RHEUM SYRUP is taken internally, which cleanses the Blood, by throwing impurities to the surface, when the CBRATE is applied, externally, and all eruptions are destroyed, and Health and Beauty restored. Their ASTONISHING SUCLESS has called stored. Their ASTONISHING SUCLESS has called out many ignorant pretenders, who have introduced their wonderful preparations to the public. Thay are out in slmost every form, from Panaceas down to Pills, and all for Humors, (of course they are).

But it has been reserved to Dr. Weavers' Syrup and Chrate to achieve what (under the circumstances) may be resurded as the most brilliant triumph yet achieved by any medicine ever introduced to the American public. Why is this? Simply because they perform what they promise; and notwithstanding the introduction of these new and wonderful preparations to the public, the SALT RHEUM SYRUP and CERATE keep steadily on their way, conquering as they go. If they public wish to try these new preparations, we have not a word to say, for they have a SURE REMEDY to fall back upon—viz.: Dr. Weaver's Cancer and Salt Rheum Syrup and Cerate. Of this fact the spublic are well aware, for thousands, in all sections of the country, have been cured by them, after all other remedies have failed.
